

Name of committee

Nursing education committee

Report details/accomplishments

Committee members have played an active part in communicating valuable information as discussed at our committee meetings to other nursing faculty and to our Nursing students.

Having a student representative on the committee from the Nursing Student Association of New York State (NSANYS) allows for ongoing communication and feedback. The chair of the NEC also serves as an ANA-NY consultant to NSANYS.

Additionally, NEC members seek out and promote existing educational opportunities as offered by both ANA, and other organizations such as NYSANYS, the National Student Nurses Association (NSNA), Sigma and other related organizations.

For example: committee members recently authored an article about how information related to ANA and ANA-NY are implemented within the educational environment. The article will be published in the next edition of the ANA-NY Nurse (October 2025).

NEC members also served on the Abstract Review Committee for the 2025 annual meeting and reviewed the 56 abstracts to decide eligibility for acceptance as a poster and/or a podium presentation. The NEC Chair chaired this committee.

NEC has been consistent in recruiting nurse educators/students to write at least one article for each edition of the ANA-NY Nurse.

Committee members have highlighted several topics/issues related to nursing education at each of our monthly meetings, for example: competency-based education, the role that ANA-NY plays in the educational process, providing examples of several policies, rubrics and tools used for evaluating nursing students, etc
